

Get Creative with Classical Music at Home with the BBC Ten Pieces

Each week the BBC Ten Pieces has new musical activities to do. Check them out!

WATCH A TEN PIECES FILM

These are very short films (6 minutes long), telling the stories of pieces of music. You might have heard the music before. Once you've watched the film you can choose if you want to see the whole piece performed by musicians.

I really enjoyed listening to:

In the Hall of the Mountain King from 'Peer Gynt'
Mambo' from Symphonic Dances from 'West Side Story'
Doctor Who Theme (original theme by Ron Grainer)

GET ARTY

TAKE PART IN AN INTERACTIVE LIVE LESSON

Learn from the experts - how to create your own dance moves, write a song, make an animation and so much more.

Put on your very own concert

- Practise your favourite pieces and invite the other people at home to watch.
- Put chairs or cushions out for them to sit on.
- You could make them a program saying what pieces you will be playing. (Like the programs we have for special assemblies and concerts at school)

Explore Rhythm and Pulse with BBC Bitesize

Create your own piece using words and body percussion for the pulse and rhythm.
